User Responsibilities

1. Users must complete one round of data orders before submitting a withdrawal request.

2. No withdrawals or refunds are permitted during the execution of data orders.

3. Users cannot cancel or skip orders.

4. Large Withdrawal Channel Activation: When a user initiates a single withdrawal request of 5,000 USDC/T or more for the first time, the system will automatically trigger the risk-control mechanism and temporarily restrict the account's withdrawal function. To lift this restriction, the user must deposit an amount equal to 50% of the account's current balance as bond into their Criteronix account. This deposit will be directly added to the user's total balance on the Criteronix platform and will be used to activate the Large Withdrawal Channel.
Once the channel is successfully activated, the account's withdrawal function will return to normal, the withdrawal limit will increase to 50,000 USDC, and the user will receive priority withdrawal rights.

5. Users are required to fulfill their responsibilities in accordance with the Platform's terms and conditions and agreements, and to submit optimized data within the specified timeframe. If a merchant suffers financial losses due to the user's failure to fulfill obligations, and the amount of such losses exceeds the user's frozen account balance, the user may face legal action and will be responsible for compensating the merchant for all resulting losses.
